Live dance in the gallery

A new interdisciplinary live performance work made for the gallery environment that explores time and memory through dance, sculpture and sound art. Framing memories not as fixed narratives from the past but as transforming collisions with the present, the piece evokes an atmosphere rich with sensations, images and emotions. It considers the past as re-written in the present.

Created by choreographer and performer Mary Wycherley in collaboration with sculptor Rory Tangney and sound artist La Cosa Preziosa.
